S. No. 204

Introduced by SEN. SHERWIN T. GATCHALIAN

AN ACT
ESTABLISHING THE PHILIPPINE BASIC EDUCATION NUTRITION AND PERFORMANCE ACCELERATION PROGRAM, APPROPRIATING FUNDS
THEREFOR, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

According to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), early childhood until the age of eight is critical for the cognitive, physical, and emotional development of a child.

Based on this statement, education imparted to a child during their first decade of learning will in large part determine the opportunities available to him or her in the future. In order to give today's children every opportunity of succeeding, fulfilling their nutritional requirements during these formative years is essential. Doing so is made even more imperative given that hunger impairs a child's ability to learn by hampering their cognitive and physical growth and leaves them more vulnerable to disease.^{1,2}

Despite the existing dangers to a child's educational progress due to hunger, we consider the following facts:

- || 66 million primary-age children in the developing world go to class hungry.³
- || In the Philippines, due to hunger, 8.6 percent of school-aged children between the ages of 5-19 years old are wasted, indicating that they suffer from acute malnutrition.⁴
- || According to the Department of Education (DepEd), for the 2012-2013 academic year, 1,918,464 public elementary school children were wasted or severely wasted.⁵

These statistics show that we, as a nation, have failed to satisfy the adequate nutritional needs of today's children. The basic right of a child to proper care and nutrition as provided for in our Constitution has largely gone ignored in the case of at least one million school children.

It is with these alarming facts that this legislation, otherwise known as the Nutri-Skwela Act of 2016, is brought before you. It aims to address the issue of eradicating hunger and malnutrition amongst our young scholars by providing them with the proper nutritional requirements to succeed at school and in life.

The Act is highlighted by the following provisions:

- 1) Providing at least one meal on each school day to children enrolled in day care, kindergarten, and grades 1-6 in all public educational institutions, free of charge. Children whose classes start in the morning shall be provided with breakfast before the start of classes while children whose classes start in the afternoon shall be provided with lunch prior to the start of classes. In addition, children whose daily academic program lasts for more than five hours shall be eligible for two meals free-of-charge.

- 2) A central body known as the National Nutrition Council shall be responsible for the overall formulation, implementation and evaluation of the program. A key element of the program is to empower local government units to actively participate in the program through the City and Municipal Nutrition Committees, otherwise known as Local Committees, which shall be mainly responsible for the procurement of food, and logistical and organizational concerns of the program. The Local Committees' operations shall be overseen by the Provincial and Regional Nutrition Committees. In addition, volunteerism and community participation are also highly encouraged, to allow community members to aid in the success of eradicating hunger.
- 3) Monitoring and quality compliance with the program's standards shall be observed through weekly reports submitted by the Local Committees. These weekly compliance reports shall include financial statements on liquidation and expenses. A performance audit shall be conducted by the Commission on Audit on a quarterly basis for the first two years of the program's implementation, and annually thereafter.

With the Nutri-Skwela Act of 2016, we aim to rid our schools of hunger, and promote and nurture the educational development of today's young scholars who are the nation's future. Hence, the immediate enactment of this Act is sought.
