AN ACT
CREATING THE "COUNCIL FOR THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT," APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Any country aiming to stimulate growth and development most certainly always rely on building infrastructures to encourage investors and increase government spending on infrastructures projects. Building infrastructures towards sustainable growth and development, however, does not rely on a single industry or profession alone.

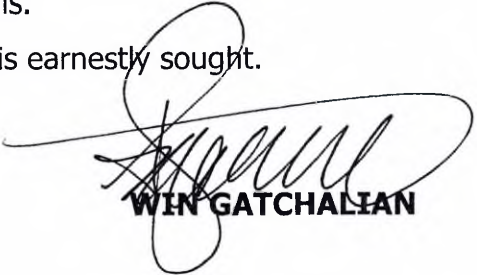

A country that builds a resilient and sustainable community needs to and must rely on the collective action and competence of several professionals who work in the field of built environment, such as (i) architecture; (ii) interior design; (iii) landscape architecture; (iv) environmental planning; (v) geodetic engineering; (vi) civil engineering; (vii) electrical engineering; (viii) mechanical engineering; (ix) sanitary engineering; (x) master plumber; (xi) electronics engineering; and (xii) real estate services.

Clearly, Built Environment Professionals play a very important role in nation-building and development. Thus, it is necessary that we find ways to ensure that all practicing Built Environment Professionals meet the minimum requirements to safeguard the life, health, property, and welfare of the public, foster their continuing professional growth and advancement, encourage and enhance collaboration, and continually review and improve the standards of regulation, professional service, and practice. This will be best addressed by establishing a Council which shall have an administrative supervision over these Built Environment Professions.

Accordingly, the proposed measure aims to create a Council of the Built Environment that will exercise powers and functions pertaining to policy advisory, oversight, and collaborative platform among the different built environment professions with the primary objective of professionalizing and promoting synergy and cooperation among the built environment professions.

In view of the foregoing, passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
